DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on March 16, 2004 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, see pages 10-12 of response, filed March 16, 2004, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-15 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) over STRAPAZZINI and claims 1-4, 7-8 and 11-15 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) over ECKENROTH (US 3,423,276) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of PONCHAUD et al. (US 5,604,006) in view of COSCIA et al. (US 4,781,952).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over PONCHAUD et al. (US 5,604,006) in view of COSCIA et al. (US 4,781,952).

The reference teaches that a label, decal, logo plate, badge, graphic or insignia can be adhesively secured to one side of a decorative insert, and a thermoplastic backing can then be inmolded to the opposing side of the decorative insert. The reference further teaches that the finished product can be used for interior trim applications for automobiles. PONCHAUD et al. teaches a composite article 10 that includes a decorative insert, inlay, foil or preform 12 having an exterior surface 14 and an interior surface 15 (Fig. 3) to which is firmly secured a thermoplastic body 18. The label 16 includes a thermoplastic layer 20. The label 16 is recessed into the exterior surface 14 of the decorative insert 12, and can either be partially recessed into the decorative insert 12 or fully recessed into the decorative insert 12. (Column 2, lines 63-67 through Column 3, lines 1-25) The decorative insert 12 comprises a thin sheet of thermoplastic material and the reference further teaches that it can also comprise a thermoplastic substrate, which has a wood grain print on its exterior surface. (Column 4, lines 23-43)

It is the Examiner's interpretation that the thermoplastic substrate 12 of PONCHAUD et al. equates to the main plate of the present invention, the label 16 equates to the insert plate of the present invention and the thermoplastic body 18 equates to the backing member of the present invention. It is noted that the reference clearly teaches that the label 16 is recessed into the decorative insert 12. The Examiner further interprets the recessed area in the thermoplastic substrate 12 of the reference as an opening.

However, PONCHAUD et al. fails to specifically teach the use of an adhesive element on the backing member on a surface opposite a surface upon which the main plate is mounted.

COSCIA et al. is directed to a decorative article for use in automobile surfaces such as those in the passenger compartment. (Column 1, lines 13-20) The reference teaches the use of various substrates and teaches that means for mounting may include a layer of adhesive material and teaches the use of a pressure sensitive adhesive. (Column 3, lines 10-14)

Since both references are directed to decorative articles for use in interior trim applications for automobiles, the purpose disclosed by COSCIA et al. would have been recognized in the pertinent art of PONCHAUD et al.

It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to modify the label bearing article of PONCHAUD et al. and provide with an adhesive element/layer such as pressure sensitive adhesive with the motivation of providing a means for mounting the label bearing article to the automobile surface without the use of fasteners as disclosed by COSCIA et al. (Refer to Column 1, lines 17-19 and Column 3, lines 10-14).
